

Leverage your voice

The all-volunteer NCMGVA board of directors includes elected officers and county delegates who represent you and your local Master Gardener program at the state level. You have a seat at the table.

Leverage your dollars

Your Association membership entitles you to the best deal on NCMGVA conference registration, saving you enough to offset your annual dues with money to spare. Members also qualify for discounted membership with the J.C. Raulston Arboretum in Raleigh and, through them, for reciprocal admissions or discounts at over 250 gardens throughout North America.

NCMGVA Mission Statement

The NCMGVA Mission is to enhance the effectiveness of the Master Gardener Program in North Carolina by organizing and hosting training and educational opportunities, by facilitating the exchange of information through publications and special events and by working in collaboration with North Carolina Cooperative Extension.

The dues for membership are $10 per year. The membership year runs from January 1 through December 31.

To be retained on the rolls, please renew your membership no later than March 1 of the year following the expiration of your membership.

Why did you join Master Gardeners?

To take your love of gardening to the next level, to develop your skills and increase your knowledge, to meet others who share your interests, to make a difference in your own community?

What great reasons to be part of the North Carolina Master Gardener Volunteer Association!

NCMGVA is a statewide non-profit organization of and for Master Gardener Volunteers.

Since 1991, the Association has helped our members grow as volunteers by providing opportunities for continuing education, networking and communication.

Our highly-rated educational conferences draw volunteers from throughout the state for advanced training, hands-on workshops, garden tours and the chance to meet and exchange ideas with new friends.

The Association's quarterly newsletter keeps you updated on news and events. In each issue, district reporters contribute to The County Line, a statewide roundup of success stories and innovative ideas being implemented at the local level.

The NCMGVA website gives you one-stop access to a wide variety of information including news of upcoming events, back issues of the newsletter, links to other sites of interest and, in our members-only section, a searchable membership directory.

Each year, our Outstanding Volunteer awards program recognizes extraordinary achievement by NC Master Gardeners.

The Madeline Collier Landscape Garden Design Competition provides a showcase for your Master Gardener program's best work and a chance to compete for cash awards.

Our competitive matching grants program helps support worthwhile Master Gardener projects at the local level.

Membership dues help fund our work.

NCMGVA
needs your support.
